Thomas Huber joins RLI Fidelity

We're still in our first official month of operations, and we're already expanding!

RLI Fidelity is proud to announce a new assistant vice president: Thomas Huber. Tom brings 16 years of underwriting experience in the fidelity product line in commercial, financial and reinsurance risks.

He was employed by CNA for 10 years, most recently as underwriting director, managing the commercial fidelity book of business. He has also served as CNA's commercial crime product leader, as well as a senior member of Hartford Financial Services underwriting liability and fidelity for large financial institutions. Tom's experience also includes senior positions in reinsurance and financial institution underwriting in the St. Paul Companies.

Tom has served as an instructor at a reinsurance seminar for international clients. He has advised corporate management teams on industry trends and product positioning within their lines of business, and has co-authored an industry thought piece on the role of fidelity in the international market place.

Tom holds a graduate degree from Rider University.

If you'd like to extend your congratulations to Tom, you can reach him at Thomas.Huber@rlicorp.com or at (973) 945-5449.
