RLI's A+ rating affirmed by A.M. Best

In soft marketplaces like today's, many producers are looking for assurances that the companies they deal with are financial strong. What could be more reassuring than a nod from A.M. Best Company?

RLI Fidelity is open for business!

Dear Valued Partner,

To paraphrase Orson Welles, the former Paul Masson spokesman, "RLI Fidelity shall serve no customers before its time." And after a brief "fermenting" process, our time has finally arrived!

Please consider this email newsletter your formal invitation and personal request to begin working with us. We are prepared to accept submissions on accounts with effective dates after 9/15.

RLI Fidelity News is a quarterly email that will focus on delivering concise, relevant business information along with periodic updates on our group. In this issue, for example, you'll find background information on RLI, our risk appetite and other useful information.

We are including you in this inaugural issue because you are a valued business partner. If you enjoy it, you don't have to do anything; we'll be sure to send you future issues. If you'd rather not be included, you may unsubscribe by selecting the link at the end of every newsletter.

Joe and I look forward to collaborating with you to solve your customers' fidelity needs. We've negotiated the regulatory maze of providing admitted paper and we're able to offer policies in most states. Please contact us for details on your risks' states, or if you have any comments or suggestions. We look forward to working together in the future.

Corporate News

RLI recognized by National Underwriter magazine

RLI was among three specialty insurance organizations listed in the top 50 insurers with the lowest six-year average combined ratios, according to National Underwriter magazine. As a result, we were a candidate for the magazine's "Profit Hall of Fame."

Our 12-year average combined ratio of 92.9 ranked us at #11. This is one more reason you can count on RLI to be there when you need us.
